The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

A Heritage for Youth

Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, in his commencement address in June, reflected many of the thoughts of the "elder" generation.

Material from his address was supplied by a local school official because, presumably, these thoughts are part of the local school philosophy, too.

Dr. Walker's rather basic reminder, that the passing generation made some contributions to this nation and this world is very appropriate at the time when eighteen-year oldsters will vote for the first time in this nation's history.

Dr. Walker told the class that the elder generation has great pride in the accomplishments of youth but that he would refrain from telling the older generation how bright these youngsters are and that he would refrain from saying that elders have made a mess of things and that the youth is the hope of mankind.

Dr. Walker pointed to the bleachers and said he would reverse the process by re-introducing the graduates to "some of the most remarkable people to ever walk the earth; people you might want to thank on this graduation day — your parents and grandparents."

"Let me tell you about them," he continued. "These — your parents and grandparents — are the people who with just five decades have by their work increased your life expectancy by approximately 50 per cent and who, while cutting the working days by a third, have more than doubled per capita output."

"These are the people who have given a healthier world than they found. And because of this you no longer have to fear epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, measles or mumps that they knew in their youth. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while tuberculosis is almost unheard of."

"Let me remind you that these remarkable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people know what it is like to be really poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this they determined it would not happen to you, that you would have a better life, that you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm house, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed than they had."

"Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, and probably the best looking generation to inhabit the land."

"And because of them, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have more leisure time, travel to more distant places, and have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition."

These also are the people who fought man's grisliest war. They are the people who defeated the tyranny of Hitler, and who when it was all over had the compassion to spend billions of dollars to help their former enemies rebuild their homelands. And these are the people who had the sense to begin the United Nations.

It was representatives of these two generations, who through the highest court of the land, fought racial discrimination at every turn to begin a new era in civil rights.

They built thousands of high schools, trained and hired tens of thousands of better teachers and at the same time made higher education a very real possibility for millions of youngsters — where once it was only the dream of a wealthy few.

"And they made a start — although a late one — in healing the scars of the earth and in fighting pollution and the destruction of our natural environment. They set into motion new laws giving conservation new meaning, and setting aside land for you and your children to enjoy for generations to come."

"While they have done all these things, they have had some failures. They have not yet found an alternative for war, nor for racial hate."

"Perhaps you, the members of this graduating class, will perfect the social mechanisms by which all men may follow their ambitions without the threat of force — so that the earth will no longer need police to enforce the laws, nor armies to prevent some men from trespassing against others."

"But they — these older generations — made more progress by the sweat of their brow than in any previous era, and don't you forget it. If your generation can make as much progress in as many areas as these two generations have, you should be able to solve a good many of the world's remaining ills."

"It is my hope, and I know the hope of these two generations, that you find the answers to many of these problems that plague mankind."

"But it won't be easy. And you won't do it by negative thoughts, nor by tearing down or belittling."

"You may and can do it by hard work, humility, hope and faith in mankind."

"Try it."

Sheriff's Patrol Cars To Get Special Equipment

Mobile teleprinters will be installed in 75 patrol cars of the San Diego County Sheriff's Department with the help of a $44,079 federal grant.

Purchase of the new equipment was approved by the California Council on Criminal Justice which administers funds under the Omnibus Crime Control Act. The teleprinters will provide patrolling officers with a high speed print-out of criminal data.

Wayne H. Bornhoff, a Council member and chairman of its Police Services Task Force, said:

"The mobile teleprinters will ultimately be linked with computer stored criminal information throughout the State and nation."

The new units, to be operated in conjunction with the patrol cars' two-way radios, will improve communications with deputies in the field and reduce the amount of verbal messages sent by radio.

Sheriff's Captain R. S. Williams, project director, said the mobile teleprinters will be operational around July 1.

"These units will provide speedy answers to inquiries about suspects interrogated in the field, including possible arrest warrants, which may have been issued against them," he explained.

A special training program will be scheduled for personnel who will operate the mobile teleprinters in the patrol vehicles. The project is one of more than 175 anti-crime projects funded by the Council throughout the State, totaling in excess of $8.2 million.

Planning Association Meets Jan. 28

Lemon Grove attorney Jim Dorman, chairman of the Lemon Grove Planning Association, has announced the next meeting of the executive committee. The general orientation meeting will be held January 28, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium.

Present at the meeting will be Bob Kelsey of the County Planning Department who will outline the activities for the coming year. The overall planning process, the San Diego County General Plan 1990, and the organization and function of the County Planning Department will be explained.

The approval by the County Board of Supervisors last December 2, of the bylaws, boundaries and work plan of the group gave chairman Dorman and co-chairmen Al Wood and Ben Ela the authorization to proceed in the guiding of the Lemon Grove community plan.

Drug User Sent To Honor Camp

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Three years' probation, with a condition that the first nine months of it be spent in the honor camp, was the sentence handed down Tuesday in Superior Court to a young Spring Valley man guilty of attempted robbery.

Michael Dean McCoy, 23, a machinist of 4110 N. Bonita, Espring Valley, was arrested May 21 when a San Diego market operator reported to police that three young men had tried to hold him up. He has been in custody since his arrest.

McCoy pleaded guilty Oct. 7 and was sent to Chino for a diagnostic study. The criminal proceedings against him were suspended.

Tuesday, in a probation report, it was stated McCoy attributed his troubles to the use of drugs. In granting probation, Judge Robert W. Conyers ordered him to stay away from drug users after his release from custody and to submit to regular drug tests.

The judge also ordered him to get and keep a job.

Drug Charge Bail Cut For L.G. Men

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Bail was reduced Monday in Superior Court from $7,500 to $2,500 for Royal Olaf Broten, 22, of Colfax st. in Lemon Grove. He was picked up in a Jan. 12 raid stemming from grand jury indictments on drug charges.

Set free on his own recognizance was Donald Page Dawson, 21, of 1526 Koe st., Lemon Grove who had been on bail of $5,000 plus penalty assessments of 25 per cent. Both Dawson and Broten are charged with drug sales to an undercover agent last fall. A probation report lists a San Diego address for Broten. Both men appeared before Judge L. C. Nielsen.

Tax Guide Available

A 160-page booklet on how to fill out your Federal Income tax return is now available at all Internal Revenue Service offices.

The booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," sells for 75 cents and contains many examples to illustrate how the Tax Reform Act applies to actual situations. A special feature of the booklet is the sample, filled-in return, Form 1040, keyed to pages in the booklet where explanations can be found for the entries on the return.

Counseling, Recreation Center For Grove Teenagers Developing

$6,000 Per Year Needed For Operation Of Project

A meeting of the committee which is trying to create a counseling and recreation center in Lemon Grove was held last Thursday, but little headway was made in the direction of getting the ball rolling.

A report from the building committee was heard, citing several buildings in Lemon Grove which might be suitable to house the center.

Rents ranging from $200 to $400 per month were cited for buildings explored by the site subcommittee, chaired by Len Farness. There was some discussion of using the youth center building on School lane, which is connected with the county.

Apparently, the building is not available for long-term lease, as it is to be used for a shelter in case of national emergency. It was suggested that efforts be made through the Lemon Grove Planning Association and the County Board of Supervisors to get the building.

The finance subcommittee reported that, if a $200 per month rent must be met, the project will need about $6,000 per year to operate, at a minimum.

The policy subcommittee, which is made up of an equal number of teenagers and adults, had not come up with any solid policies for the program.

Jerry Peterson, chairman of the subcommittee, made a note that the project should be something that the kids think they need, rather than something that community leaders think they need.

A point was also raised at the meeting that the "hotline" idea which was brought up at an earlier meeting, might not be a necessary commodity, as there are other hotlines in the area that would be as convenient.

Gene Ferrar, who handles community relations at Grossmont College, attended the meeting, and noted that the college may be of some help in the project after things get moving.

Dr. Ferrar said that it may be possible for sociology and psychology students to participate in the program, benefiting the local youngsters while at the same time receiving credit for in-service training.

Burning Auto Brings Probation To Local Man

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Lemon Grove pipefitter, who set fire to his estranged wife's automobile, was put on probation and ordered to make restitution when he appeared Friday in Superior Court before Judge Leland C. Nielsen.

Ralph Patton, 28, of 1719 Rosemary ln., was arrested Aug. 18, after a quarrel with his wife in a bar. He followed her to another bar, according to the probation report, broke the window in her car and threw in a burning book of matches when she refused to talk with him, the report states.

Mrs. Patton, the report continues, called police and asked them to take her to her own home. It was stated that Patton returned to the car and threw a lighted match into the gasoline tank.

Patton was charged with burning personal property, but on Nov. 9 a plea of "no contest" to a charge of attempting to burn property, a lesser offense, was accepted.

Sentencing was delayed twice to provide time for a psychiatric study. The doctor recommended probation. Judge Nielsen set the condition that he pay $510 in restitution for the damage and stay away from his wife.

300 District Seniors To Graduate In January

More than 300 Grossmont District seniors will end their high school studies in January. These students, representing approximately 10% of the total District's graduating senior class, have chosen to graduate mid-term for a variety of reasons.

In a recent survey of 12th grade counselors at the eight schools, they listed work, marriage, and college as the prime reasons for students graduating early. A number also mentioned the students' desire for independence.

One counselor noted that teenagers today are maturing faster, and he saw a decline of interest on the part of students in the normal school activities.

Associate Superintendent Stanley McClintic noted that most early graduations are the result of advance planning and not a "last minute" decision.

About half of the eight schools have shown a marked increase in January graduates over the past three years, however the other half of the schools reported the January graduates have remained approximately stable, or "increased in proportion to the increase in enrollment."

Some of the positive aspects of early graduation, as seen by some of the counselors surveyed, indicated that if students are restless in high school and eager to go on to something more relevant, whether it be college, marriage, or work, it's better for the students to go ahead and graduate early.

Most of the counselors expressed concern, however, that the students who graduate early tend to miss many of the senior activities, such as the prom, graduation ceremonies, and leadership opportunities on the high school campus.

Most qualified their statements by saying that it depends completely on the individual and his maturity, and whether he has something to go on to after high school.

The Lemon Grove Fire Department answered four fire calls for the week of Jan. 11-18.

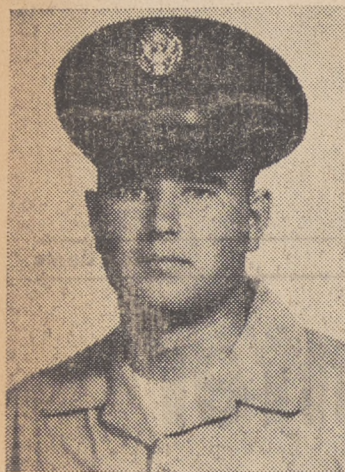

Jan. 11 at 6:26 p.m., firemen went to 7246 San Miguel. There a car, belonging to Mrs. Campbell, was burned in the amount of approximately $100, due to an electrical shortage.

Jan. 14, and the call was listed as "needless" to the "Jack-in-the-Box" drive in at 8000 Broadway, at 6:32 p.m. Someone thought he smelled smoke and it turned out to be hot paint on a hot water tank.

Jan. 17, there were two calls: At 10:20 a.m., firemen went to the 2900 block Crane st., to extinguish a small grass fire, but no damage was reported; then at 1:33 p.m., firemen returned to Crane st., to 3145, and the home of Harold Drew. Electric wiring in the washing machine caused about $50 damage to the machine, but no damage to the house.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

We plan to drive through Mexico in the near future and would like to know some of the basic expressions that are used in giving directions. For example, how does one say "forward" or "straight ahead" in Spanish? Also how do we say "Keep going" or any other direction giving phrases?

"Adelante" means "forward." It is pronounced "ah-deh-LAHN-teh" and may be used as a single word response to the question "Adonde de sigo?" which means "Where do I continue?" or "Which way do I continue?" "Siga usted" means "You keep going." We may add adelante to this phrase and form the expression "Siga usted adelante." (You continue forward.) Some speakers may say "Siga usted todo derecho," which means basically the same thing but would be translated "Continue straight ahead."

"Esta a la derecha." (It is to the right.) may be a statement or a question. A distinguishing and progressively higher pitched voice toward the end of the phrase is used in conversation to signal listeners that phrase is a question. A parallel tone of voice identifies the phrase as a statement.

"Esta a la izquierda." is translated "It is to the left." The same words may also be a question, "Esta a la izquierda?" and the higher pitched voice toward the end of the phrase distinguishes it as a question, "Is it to the left?"

Practice phrases listed below contain some questions and statements that might be of interest to you if you are planning that drive through Mexico. If you wish to practice saying them with the aid of an experienced speaker, dial 276-2762 on your telephone and the speaker's recorded voice will guide you.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Adonde de sigo?" (ah-DOHN-deh SEE-goh) for "Where do I continue?"
Say "Adelante." (ah-deh-LAHN-teh) for "Forward."

USEFUL PHRASES:

Say "Esta a la derecha?" (eh-STAH ah lah deh-REH-chah) for "Is it to the right?"
Say "Esta a la izquierda?" (eh-STAH ah lah deh-REH-chah) for "Is it to the left?"
Say "No; siga todo derecho." (noh SEE-gah TOH-toh deh-REH-ehoh) for "No; continue straight ahead."

OTHER PHRASES:

Say "Esta a la izquierda?" (eh-STAH ah lah ees-kee-EHR-dah) for "Is it to the left?"
Say "No; siga todo derecho." (noh SEE-gah TOH-toh deh-REH-ehoh) for "No; continue straight ahead."

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) It's been just about a month since I sent in my tax return and my refund still hasn't come. What should I do?

A) Write your regional IRS service center or call your local IRS office. Be sure to give your Social Security number, name, address, and when your return was filed. This information is needed to trace your return.

Most refund claims have already been processed and the checks mailed out.

Q) I was married last month and plan to continue working for another year or so. Should I make any change in my tax withholding?

A) You may want to file a new withholding certificate with your employer claiming married status. This will reduce your withholding.

However, many married couples who both are employed elect to have tax withheld from each of them as a "single" person to avoid owing large additional amounts of tax at the end of the year. If you plan to file a joint return for the year, as most couples do, your final tax liability will not be affected regardless of whether you or your husband claims your personal exemption.

Q) My daughter started to work last month, but she still lives at home. Will she be able to claim her as a dependent?

A) It depends on whether she still meets the dependency tests. For instance, you must provide over half of her total support for the year. Regarding her earnings, if they amount to $625 or more you cannot claim her unless she is under 19 at year end or a full-time student for any five months of the year.

Q) I read that if you add a front porch to your house the cost is deductible. Is that right?

A) No, the cost is not deductible. The cost, however, can be added to the basis of your house and taken into account in determining your income.

Q) I read that if you add a front porch to your house the cost is deductible. Is that right?

A) No, the cost is not deductible. The cost, however, can be added to the basis of your house and taken into account in determining your income.

Three hours of each day are also devoted to instruction for the handicapped. Teachers are Mmes. Edwin Neil, Patrick, Dwyer and Alan Martin.

Services Planned Tomorrow For Lemon Grove 'Birdman'

Graveside services for Lemon Grove's "birdman", Andrew Jensen, 85, of 8225 Adams st., Lemon Grove, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. at Glen Abbey Memorial Park.

Jensen, who lived at the breeding ranch at his home for 50 years, died last Friday of a heart attack while on his way to feed his 200 birds.

Jensen came to Lemon Grove in 1921, when he retired from Chicago's Palmer House as head chef.

An avid bird lover, Jensen had traveled to the west coast to find a suitable place to raise fowl, and decided to stay in Lemon Grove.

Among his accomplishments were a peacock, which he raised with the largest wing span in North America. The bird's wings spread to a distance of ten feet.

In 1957, he saved 400 birds from a brush fire, and is credited with hatching most of the birds for the San Diego Zoo in the 1930's and 1940's. He also bred more than 200 varieties of rare birds.

The San Diego Humane Society will take the birds at the breeding ranch and find homes for them. Jensen leaves no survivors.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Monday, January 4, sitting in my second period English class, my English teacher asked us about any experiences we had over Christmas vacation. She told us about an experience that she witnessed.

She and her husband were invited to a party given by a doctor, and his wife. Many other doctors and their wives were invited too. One doctor, who is an obstetrician, was late. He was assisting a young girl in delivering her baby. He came in later looking very disturbed and shaken. The doctor who was giving the party asked how the baby was.

The obstetrician looked at him and said, "It was the most beautiful baby boy I have ever delivered. He was just beautiful, perfect as can be. But he was born without legs, just stumps."

The girl and her husband had been on drugs. They had experimented with every kind around. They told the doctor that they hadn't taken anything for over twelve months. They were really sobbing. Their baby would have to spend the rest of its life in a wheelchair. Because of their mistake, this is what happened.

I would like you to print this letter telling the young and older of all ages that taking drugs really doesn't pay off when a child is involved. Even if there isn't a child, take or pop that next pill.

Signed,
Dyann Rickel

Teens Beat Adults In Campaign

Teenagers took on a job last year and did a better job of it than adults did with the same job the year before, the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club was told at a recent meeting.

According to Geraldine E. Gill, resident executive director of the San Diego County Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, youngsters organized, conducted a door-to-door canvas, and handled a follow-up in last year's fund campaign for the organization.

She went on to add that in 1969, when adults handled the drive, $25,000 was collected, considerably less than the $44,000 collected by teens in 1970. The drive this year will start March 28.

In last year's drive, Kiwanis-sponsored Key Clubs from high schools all over San Diego County and a few from Imperial County did the job, said Mrs. Gill. She added that the board members were skeptical of turning the job over to the youngsters, but later had to "eat their words" when the job was completed.

These will include contributions of the local Chapter to the American Indian, hosting at U.S.O. centers, visiting U.S. veteran patients at military hospitals, hosting at the National City Service Men's Center, conducting Good Citizen contests among local high schools and other projects related to the support of the U. Helix High Spanish Students Learn By Singing Pop Music

The Beatles and Trini Lopez were on the class schedule for the day and 35 Helix High School students were setting up their microphones, as Joe Rolback's Spanish class prepared for one of its unique Spanish lessons.

Since learning a foreign language can be a tedious and often tiresome job for high school students, Rolback started living up his Spanish course with singing lessons.

Two years ago, Rolback noticed that his Spanish students were getting bored with the traditional Spanish tunes taught in class. To relieve the situation he decided to start translating Spanish recordings of top American pop songs into their idiomatic English. By doing this, Rolback was able to teach the students Spanish and at the same time they were picking up important idioms and in the English translations.

The students responded enthusiastically to the South American versions of familiar songs like "Georgy Girl" and "These Boots Are Made For Walkin'". They learned many new words while singing familiar tunes and the learning process was made more enjoyable.

After seeing the positive initial response from his students, Rolback continued to gather and translate pop songs. He now has a book of 30 translated songs for each one of his students.

The songbooks, which contain tunes ranging from "Guantana Mera" by the Sandpipers to "Hey Jude" by the Beatles, are set up to include the Spanish version of the song with the English translations just underneath the Spanish lines. Thus, while singing, the students learn the actual Spanish words for familiar English lyrics.

Hebrew Classes Now At Grossmont

Grossmont Adult School is offering a class in Modern Hebrew on all levels; beginning, intermediate, and advanced Hebrew.

Students will be taught reading, writing, and speaking Modern Hebrew with a special emphasis on basic conversation.

For further information call Grossmont Adult School, 465-3131, Ext. 275.

Rolback's classes have their Spanish singing lessons twice a week, when they are in the language laboratory. On those days, the students work on their regular drills and assignments for one-half of the period and they spend the remainder of the class period singing songs from their songbooks.

Before starting the tedious process of translating a Spanish recording of an American hit into the English idiomatic equivalent, Rolback has to know what are the current hits and if they have ever been recorded in Spanish.

To get this information Rolback subscribes to Spanish songbooks from Mexico and consults the hit parades from Mexico and the United States. Once he has decided on a top song, he buys the record of the Spanish version in Mexico and listens to it, translating it into English idioms. There have been times when Rolback has had to listen to a recording 50 times before the translations were correct and clear.

"I am constantly looking for good songs that will be favorites for a long time," Rolback said.

Although singing Spanish songs may sound like all fun and no work, the students are tested on the vocabulary in the songs. This practice helps the students increase their Spanish vocabulary. Besides, they are learning the everyday language of the Spanish teenagers.

Rolback has been teaching at Helix for six years and he has been working 15 years in the Grossmont School District.

LATIN BEAT — Students in Joe Rolback's Spanish classes at Helix High School have been learning the language through the help of the language laboratory, where the youngsters assemble twice each week to sing popular songs translated into Spanish. Each student who participates in the program has a songbook containing about fifty songs that have been translated.

Students At Helix Get New Program

The English teachers at Helix High School have proposed a new system for next year, which will give juniors and seniors a variety of English courses to choose from in addition to the traditional classes.

Some of the proposed courses for the program are American Folklore, Science Fiction, Bible as Literature, Myth and Legend, Satire and Comedy, Creative Writing, Media, Journalism, and Speech.

Next year, the sophomores and juniors will be able to choose to take any two of these semester courses in place of the regular junior or senior English classes next year.

The students will have different teachers each semester. College prep credit will be given for every course. Regular English III and IV classes will also be offered.

This is the first elective program of its kind to be introduced at Helix. It was preceded by the experimental eleventh grade English classes being taught this year, in which four different types of literature are taught by four different teachers.

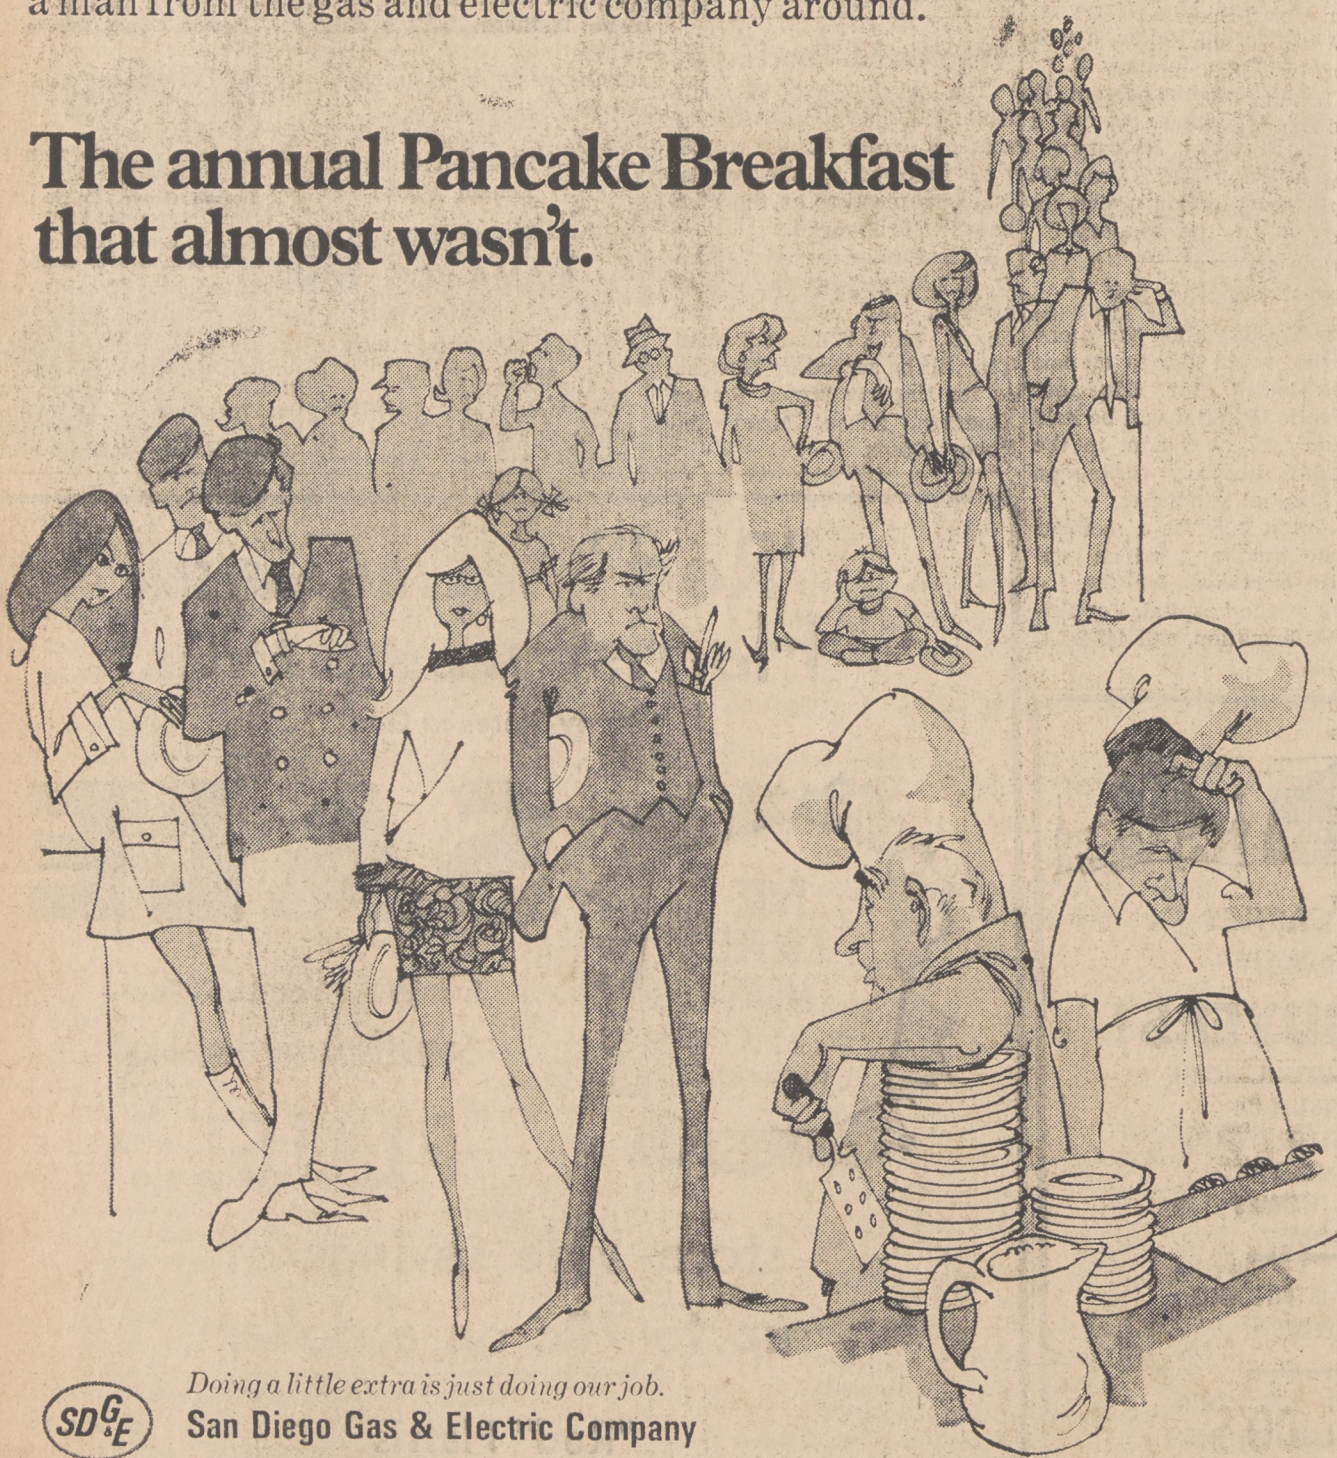

Don Stockdale, President of the Coronado Rotary Club, wrote us a nice letter recently.

It seems the Club was getting ready for its annual Pancake Breakfast. With many of the 1,457 guests already arriving, it was discovered that the griddles weren't working.

After the initial panic, Bob Hansen, one of our employees, volunteered his services. Bob quickly had all three griddles in operation, and a lot of hungry Coronadans settled down to their pancakes.

Which all goes to prove, of course, that it's nice to have a man from the gas and electric company around.

The annual Pancake Breakfast that almost wasn't.

Doing a little extra is just doing our job.

During this period, more than 300,000 sixth-grade students have benefited from the camp program.

Local Teams Are Among Four Tied For Grossmont Loop Lead

Mt. Miguel Scores 92, Beats Eagles

Mount Miguel High School's basketball team, bouncing back from a crushing defeat at the hands of the Grossmont Foot-hillers last Tuesday, ran the Granite Hills Eagles off their own floor Friday night en route to a 92-71 win.

The game opened as a wide-open affair, as both teams threw defensive strategies out the window. The local team jumped the starting lineup a bit before the game, as Coach Dwight Teater inserted 6-6 Steve Ayers, a seldom-used second-string center.

Ayers rose to the occasion at his first start of his high school career, as he grabbed 16 rebounds and tossed in 14 points to spark his teammates to the easy win over the last place Eagles.

In fast breaking free-for-all action in the first period, the Matadors got off to a good start, canning 26 points to take a nine-point lead into the second period.

By the time the halftime buzzer sounded, the Miguel team had compiled a 52-35 lead, and the Eagles were well on their way to their 14th straight loss of the year.

As the second half opened, Teater started turning the second and third string players into the lineup, but the hapless Granite Hills crew was still unable to catch the local team, as the Matadors led 70-49 as the quarter ended.

In the final stanza, Granite Hills came alive against the Mount Miguel substitutes, but were unable to narrow the gap, as the Spring Valley bucketeers were still on top, 92-71, as the game ended.

Topping the Matadors in scoring was John Slater, who played a little better than two quarters, netting 20 tallies. Ayers was next on the list, with 24, which is the same total as Tom Young.

The win for Mount Miguel put the Matadors back into a tie for first place with a 3-1 mark. Tied with Mount Miguel is Monte Vista, Helix, and Grossmont.

The Miguel squad will move on to Helix tomorrow night to face the rugged Highlanders.

Olympic Champ Heads List Of Athletes Here

Olympic champion Ralph Doubell of Australia heads an impressive list of foreign athletes who will compete in the fifth annual San Diego Indoor Games, announced today for Friday night, Feb. 19, at the International Sports Arena.

Meet Director Ralph Smith also said invitations have been sent to Olympic champions Lee Evans, Willie Davern, Randy Matson, Dick Fosbury and Bob Seagren.

Doubell, who equaled the world record of 1:44.3 in winning the 800 meters at Mexico City in 1968, is entered in the 1,000 yard run here. He holds the world indoor record of 2:05.5.

He will be opposed by Juris Luzins of the U. S. Marines, who set an American record of 2:05.6 in last year's San Diego meet.

In the same meet, judged the finest indoor meet of the season, Evans set a world indoor record of 54.5 in the 500-yard run. Evans, at Washington, D.C., recently, lowered that mark to 54.4.

In the two mile, invitations have been extended to George Young and Kerry Pearce who share the world indoor record of 8:27.2. Both men set their marks on the swift San Diego track, Pearce in 1968 and Young in 1969.

Young, who holds the outdoor American record at 8:22.0, has returned to competition after sitting out the 1970 season. In 1969 he was undefeated on the boards, capping the campaign with a world indoor record in the three-mile run.

Buffalo Braves Debut In Rocket Game Mon.

The Buffalo Braves, one of three expansion teams in the National Basketball Association this season, will provide the opposition for the San Diego Rockets in their next home contest at the San Diego Sports Arena, Monday, January 25.

The Braves, coached by NBA Silver Anniversary team member Dolph Schayes, make their debut in San Diego for the 8 p.m. contest.

The Rockets and Braves have met once this season on October 17 in Buffalo with the San Diego Club pulling out a 102-93 verdict. They will also play tomorrow night in Buffalo and that contest will be relayed back to San Diego over KFMB-Radio (76 on the AM dial) with Art Eckman doing the play-by-play starting at 5 p.m.

The two teams play only four times this season. Their final meeting comes on March 9 in San Diego.

In that October series opener, Elvin Hayes scored 30 points and grabbed 22 rebounds while Stu Lantz added 25 points to pace the win.

The Braves started off very fast as they won the first four matches, and Steve Wood (122) recorded the match's only pin in those bouts.

The Monarchs then started their domination as they captured eight of the last nine matches.

Monte Vista took over the lead when 156-pound senior Mark Ochs pinned his opponent with a minute and a half gone in the second period. Ochs' pin gave the Monarchs a 17-14 lead with four matches remaining.

Richard Weathers, a 167-pound senior, made the score 22-14 as he nailed his opponent with one minute left in the match.

Senior Randy McCorquodale (193) then clinched the match when he pinned his counterpart at the 2:53 timing. The win for McCorquodale made Randy undefeated in league competition along with several Monarchs.

Monte Vista will now travel to Granite Hills to face the winless Eagles. However, Granite Hills has some excellent individuals in Mike Keavney (140), Gary Pike (177), and Bruce Hall (193).

Monte Vista Wrestlers Best Braves

Coming from 14 points down, the Monte Vista wrestling team fought back to defeat a very tough El Cajon team by a score of 32-16 in the Monarchs' gym last Friday night.

Monte Vista Belts Braves 69-49 Friday

By Tom Blattler
The Monte Vista basketball team seems to be back to its winning ways after being hit by sickness and injury as the Monarchs crushed the El Cajon Braves, 69-49, last Friday night in the losers' gym, to gain a four-way tie for first in the Grossmont League standings.

Monte Vista, who was beaten by Helix by 25 points, was only in the lead by two points, 11-9, at the end of the first quarter. El Cajon employed a slow-down offense in that period.

In the second stanza, the Braves went back to their regular run-and-gun offense, but El Cajon could not stop the Monarchs' fast break. By half-time Monte Vista was ahead by four, 30-26, as the Monarchs outscored the Braves, 19-17.

Monte Vista's fast break began again at the beginning of the third quarter. The Braves' center Sean Barrett fouled out in the middle of the period, and the Monarchs started to pull away from that point. Monte Vista led at the end of the third period, 49-40, as the Monarchs held their lead by outscoring El Cajon, 19-14.

Monte Vista pulled away from the Braves in the final stanza and the game ended with both teams using their reserves. In the final count, the Monarchs had outscored El Cajon, 20-9, for the final score of 69-49.

Four Monarchs, all seniors, scored in double figures. Forward Gary "The Big E" Earle had 21 points. Guard Bob Papiak was the second leading scorer with 16 tallies. Allen Bunting finished with 15, and guard Carl Stucky recorded 13.

The win was the third straight league victory for the Monarchs after losing to Helix in the opening league game. Monte Vista is now tied with Grossmont, Helix, and Mount Miguel. All four schools have records of three wins and one loss.

The Monarchs' next opponent will be the Grossmont Foot-hillers at the Monte Vista gym. The Foot-hillers are led by 6-foot-10 junior center Ralph Drollinger and senior forward Kevin Enright, who at 6-foot-7, is Grossmont's leading scorer with a 17.9 average.

Mount Miguel Coach Replacement Sought Says Principal Grant

By John Nicholson
Ben Cipranic, who has been the head football coach at Mount Miguel High School, will not return in that capacity, it was announced Monday by Mel C. Grant, principal of the school.

Cipranic, who will remain at the school as a geography instructor, will step down in favor of a new coach to be selected in the next couple of weeks, according to Grant.

Grant said that the coach was relieved of his football responsibilities because the football program had not been progressing as well as hoped. Last year, the Mount Miguel team failed to win any games, compiling a record of 0-9 for the year.

Grant said that the school plans to "try it under somebody else," since Cipranic had failed to get the program moving.

Interviews for a new man to fill the vacant position will take place in the next couple of weeks, and applications are expected to be taken for the next ten days.

A committee of administrators from the school along with athletic director Ned Blass will conduct the interviewing for the position, according to Grant. Dr. Robert Pyle will head the committee.

According to Grant, the new coach, along with members of the administration, will decide whether or not Cipranic and other members of the existing staff will continue to help with the football program at the school.

Grant said that at this time "it is not anticipated that there will be any substantial change in the existing football staff." Because new personnel must not only fill a position on the football staff, but also must fit in with other subjects, a complete jumbling of the program would be nearly impossible.

None of the members of the coaching staff, including Cipranic, can be fired, as they have tenure.

However, if some of the coaches resign, it would open the door to new personnel. Cipranic said that "I'm not going to have anything to do with football at Mount Miguel High School," which could mean that he may resign his teaching position at the school in favor of a coaching job somewhere else.

Athletic director and head football coach Bob Guess, of Santana High School, resigned that post last week, effective in June, and the position has not been filled yet.

A source from Santana said that Cipranic has not applied for that position, but that interviews are still being conducted.

Another job is available for a head coach, at Grossmont College, as Clint Whitfield announced recently that he will retire from the duties in favor of "just teaching P.E."

No action has been taken yet by the college governing board, however, so interviews will not be held there until sometime in February, if the board approves the move.

Aztecs Sign Iowa State
San Diego State has signed with Iowa State of the Big 8 for football games in the 1971 and 1972 seasons, it was announced by San Diego State Director of Athletics, Dr. Ken Karr.

Both games will be played in San Diego Stadium with the 1971 game set for November 27. The date of the 1972 contest will be set later.

The addition of Iowa State completes an 11-game schedule for the Aztecs in 1971. The complete schedule is: Sept. 25 at Southern Mississippi, Oct. 2—Northern Illinois, Oct. 9—University of Pacific, Oct. 16 at UC Santa Barbara, Oct. 23—Utah State, Oct. 30 at Fresno State, Nov. 6 at San Jose State, Nov. 13—Cal State Long Beach, Nov. 20—Arizona, Nov. 27—Iowa State and Dec. 4—North Texas State.

"It's really a pleasure to be able to play such a fine team," remarked San Diego State head coach Don Coryell. "I hope this is the beginning of a long relationship with Iowa State and the Big 8."

Lawmakers Honor Amputee Named Goodwill Top Worker

Goodwill Industries of San Diego County celebrated its National Founder's Day Monday with a special luncheon at Goodwill headquarters at 402 Fifth ave.

The observance commemorates the birth date of Dr. Edgar J. Helms, who originated the Goodwill Industries in Boston in 1902.

Since that time Goodwill has grown to include 144 units in the United States and in 22 foreign countries.

Allen Sutherland, Goodwill president, presented the annual "Goodwill Worker of the Year" award to Jesus Garcia, a right arm amputee who as a Goodwill truck driver has won more safe driving bonus awards than any other Goodwill driver.

Goodwill Industries in San Diego County, through its main headquarters and seven stores, paid more than $689,000 in wages last year to physically and emotionally handicapped workers for refurbishing used clothing, furniture, appliances and other items.

Eugene Morrill, executive director, said public support through donations has given the handicapped people on the organization's payroll self-respect, dignity, self-support, independence and a feeling of usefulness to the community.

BofA Earnings Up

BankAmerica Corporation, one-bank holding company for Bank of America, reported record totals in earnings, resources and deposits in 1970.

President A. W. Clausen announced that consolidated income before securities transactions gained six per cent to $163,309,000 or $4.75 per share after provision for loan losses. This compared with $153,810,000 or $4.48 per share in 1969.

Board Votes Not To Seat Student Observer

Seating of a student representative on the Grossmont College Governing Board was turned down for the third time last Monday night at the board meeting, with trustees voting 4-1 against the proposal.

Trustee George Birch, who also announced at the meeting that he will not be a candidate when governing board elections are held April 20, was the principal opponent of the measure.

Birch threatened to resign his seat immediately if the student representative was seated. He received support from trustee William Faulwetter.

Three trustees, Board President Portia Goode, Dr. Paul Epler, and Carl Tuttle, had indicated that they would support the measure, but Epler and Tuttle ended up voting with Birch and Faulwetter.

Student Senate representatives, as well as members of the college faculty, have argued in favor of the measure, saying that the seating of a student observer would improve communications.

In other action, the governing board approved the funding of college athletic teams while traveling throughout the remainder of the year, as the student body funds are running low.

The funding will include meals and accommodations, but will not include transportation costs.

The board also voted to deny a faculty request to raise the percentage of instructors eligible for sabbatical leaves. Present policy allows for four percent of the faculty being eligible.

The request from the faculty asked for an increase to six percent for the 1971-72 year, seven percent for the 1972-73 year, and eight percent for the 1973-74 year.

Two Technology Classes Planned At Southwestern

The Engineering Technology Department at Southwestern College will offer two specialized courses for the spring semester.

A construction technology course will meet daily from 8 a.m. to noon and will cover pre-apprenticeship training in the construction trades.

The program is designed to qualify students for the apprenticeship examination which, if passed successfully, leads to acceptance for the regular construction trades apprenticeship program.

The course will offer practical experience in carpentry, plumbing, electricity, painting, dry wall, insulation and taping. Actual construction of buildings will be part of the classroom work. Richard Welsh, Southwestern College faculty member, will coordinate the program in cooperation with the construction industry in San Diego County.

An expanded automotive service technician program will also be offered daily at Southwestern which will prepare students for the class "A" license in motor vehicle air pollution control. It will also offer complete training in automotive tune-up.

Anyone interested in enrolling in either program should contact the Admissions Office at the College or apply directly to the Engineering and Technology Department. Deadline for applications is tomorrow.

MARCHERS — Mrs. Don Caldwell, a member of the March of Dimes board of directors, right, briefs Mrs. Arthur Anders, one of the county march leaders, on the door-to-door Mothers March campaign which begins in San Diego County Jan. 25. Mrs. Anders, of La Mesa, who is the mother of astronaut William Anders, will join hundreds of women in the fight against birth defects.

Mothers' March Due

Hundreds of Mothers' March volunteers will take to the high and low roads in the final week of January in their campaign to raise funds to continue the fight against the nation's second greatest destroyer of human life — birth defects.

The key drive of the March of Dimes campaign in San Diego County will begin Monday, January 25 and continue through January 31.

The March of Dimes fights birth defects with intensive basic and clinical research and medical care for those already afflicted, reports Alex Hannum, 1971 campaign chairman.

Hannum said this is part of an all-out campaign aimed at prevention — nationwide prenatal care programs and public health information warning against drug misuse, malnutrition, prematurity — all causes of infant death and disease.

Every year these dedicated women — and some men who proudly wear their "Tonight I Am A Mother" badges — spend long hours to organize the march.

Their previous efforts are beginning to pay off. Modern medical research and treatment methods are succeeding in preventing thousands of tragedies that would otherwise have been caused by Rh disease or prenatal rubella infections, Hannum continued.

But the hundreds of mothers, who are continuing the fight against birth defects via this method, know that more remains to be done.

The March of Dimes has won the battle against polio. Now, the organization's aim is to obtain a healthy birthright for every baby.

Spring Classes Set In Library Technology

Grossmont College will offer two courses in Library Technology during the spring semester. One course, "Research Technical Libraries, LITEC 132," will be offered for the first time at Grossmont College this spring. "Library Technical Assisting," offered for the first time during the fall 1969 semester, has proven to be a very popular course with library assistants in the area.

"Library Technical Assisting, LITEC 131" prepares the student for successful employment in libraries. An introductory course that has a strong emphasis on human relations and the social significance of libraries. It is particularly recommended for anyone currently working in school and public libraries and those who have a strong interest and desire to join the field at a level below that of the professional librarian. "Library Technical Assisting" will be offered each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5:30 and will include both field trips in the area and work experience in libraries. College librarian Thomas A. Hepp will serve as the instructor for this course.

"Research-Technical Libraries, LITEC 132" is designed for those who have completed the introductory course or who have had appropriate experience in the library field. Students will be trained to assist professional librarians in special libraries such as those in industry and government.

"Research-Technical Libraries" will be offered each Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. Curtis L. Stevens, Grossmont College assistant librarian who has had extensive experience in special libraries, will be the instructor for this new course.

Deadline for application for this and other courses offered during the spring semester at Grossmont College is tomorrow.

College To Offer Classes In Guitar

Grossmont College will offer classes in beginning and intermediate guitar during the spring semester. The classes will be instructed by Marty Stuart. Stuart who has been playing the guitar since 1938, has 20-year's professional experience with big bands and on radio and television.

A student of famed guitarist Johnny Smith, Stuart will take the beginning guitar student through a basic instruction book with emphasis on chords and relation. On completion of the course, the student should be able to play any music placed before him on a sight read theory. More qualified students should be able to chord along with most songs without music. Classes in beginning guitar will be held from 7 to 9 each Tuesday evening.

Intermediate guitar will deal with chord progress and the theory of chords for guitar, how to apply them, and how they fit to the general scale of music. Intermediate guitar will be offered from 9 to 11 a.m. each Friday.

Additional information on these courses and other courses available at Grossmont College during the spring semester is available in the Admissions Office.

Carpenters Set Concert Saturday Night at 8 p.m.

By Lynn Jones

The Carpenters are coming to San Diego at 8 p.m. Saturday night at the Civic Theater with Jake Holmes, author and performer of the hit single "So Close", in the second spot.

The group's version of the Burt Bacharach-Hal David tune "Close to You" brought the Carpenters to the top spot on the national pop music charts for more than six weeks. It was Bacharach who gave the group its first major concert exposure when they joined him and his orchestra for a tour through the United States that included a date in San Diego.

The Carpenters, basically a brother and sister act, feature Rich playing a piano and singing, and Karen singing and keeping the beat on the drums. Three back-up musicians round out the group, as Dan Woodhams handles the bass, Doug Strawn performs on the reeds, and Bob Messenger picks guitar and helps out with the reeds.

In the early going, Rich and Karen performed with a bass player who switched to the tuba in 1966, the year they won top honors at the Hollywood Bowl Battle of the Bands. That honor won the trio a recording contract, but the tuba player decided to call it quits and ended up joining the San Francisco Symphony. Rich and Karen then became part of a group called the Spectrum, where they caught the attention of A&M Records. They cut their first album with A&M, called "Offering", which included their interpretation of the Beatles' "Ticket to Ride", which became their first hit single.

Tickets for the concert are $5, $4, and $3 and can be picked up at Highlander Men's Stores, Metro Ticket Agencies, or the Civic Theater Box Office.

Last night was opening night for the hilarious musical farce, "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum." The International Company's second production of its 1970-71 season. Curtain is at 8:30 in Theatre East, Center for the Performing Arts, 350 Cedar St., through Saturday.

The show, which is loaded to the hilt with lilt and humor, runs seven more times, tonight through Saturday and Jan. 27-30.

The International Company is sponsored by United States International University's School of Performing Arts, located at the Cedar St. address. It is an assembly of gifted and experienced artists and production people who will stage a total of six major productions this season.

"A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" has been staged and directed by Charles Vernon who stated, "Our show is a riot of buffoonery and clowning. It also puts the 'musical' back in musical comedy."

Choreography was by Jack Tygett; musical direction by Charles D. Yates; sets by Paul Staheli; lighting by Bruce Pearson; costumes by Julie Staheli; stage manager is Ronald Lewis.

Cast in the principal role of Pseudolus is Lee Davis Knight. Ole Kitten plays Hysterium, second comic lead. The young lovers, Hero and Philia, are played by David Maker and Carol Lugenbeal.

Others prominent in the cast are Charles S. Davis as Sernex; Robina Suwol as Domina; Connie Kennedy as Tintinabula; Billy Jean Ross as Errognus; Walt Ritter as Miles Gloriosus.

Courtesans, Slave girls and Proteans, all resplendent in original costumes based on the colorful Roman era in which the wild and wacky farce takes place are an important asset to the show.

Musical numbers will be supported by a twelve-piece orchestra to be conducted by Gene Corporan and Andrew Jong-sma.

Reservations and tickets may be made now by contacting the International Company boxoffice located in the Center for the Performing Arts, 350 Cedar St., or by phoning 0390391, ext. 11.

Actor's Quarter Children's Theatre will present Ginger Cody's adaptation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" opening Saturday, January 23, and playing every Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. thru February 28.

Directed by Tom Morton, produced by J. L. Cody, with set by Joseph McCormack and costumes by Kathy Morton, "Snow White" will feature Modern Jazz dance, choreographed by "Merlins". The story follows the old fairy tale as closely as an adaptation can, Mrs. Cody assures us.

Actor's Quarter will also present Sidney Howard's "The Silver Cord", opening tomorrow and running Friday and Saturday nights, 8:30 p.m. thru February 27.

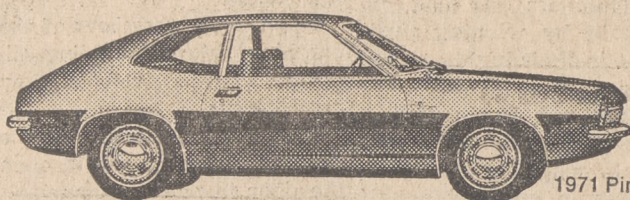

"The Silver Cord" is the story of a dominant mother and her struggle to keep her two grown sons dependent on her. David, the older son has married, and Robert, the younger one, has become engaged. The young wife's fight for her husband's affection, and the betrothed girl's battle against a nervous breakdown bring the two boys to make their final choice between and mother's love and life itself.

CONTINUED SERVICE — Glenn Murdock, superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district, was awarded the Continuing Service Award pin Tuesday at the Founders Day meeting of the Mt. Helix Council, in the Nan Couts Cottage, in La Mesa.

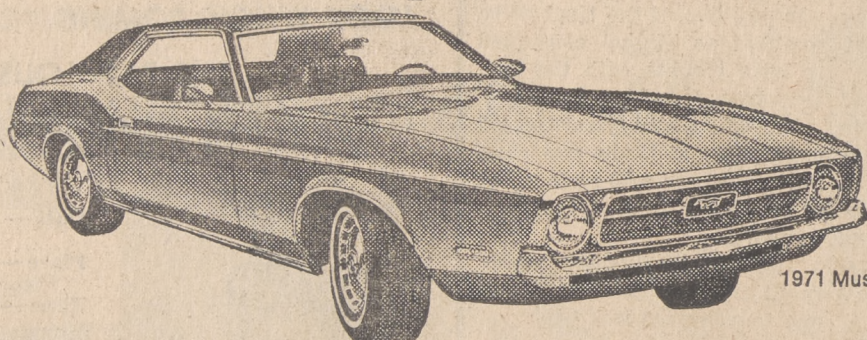

Murdock received the award for his continued work in the district since he became superintendent nearly two decades ago.

Also at the meeting, past presidents of the organization each gave a thumbnail sketch of highlights of the term she served, giving a brief history of the organization. Included in the histories were tales of how the Council split into smaller councils as the area grew and more schools were added.

"Drug Abuse — A Mind Bender!", the title of a 12 page tabloid newspaper analyzing youth problems and drug abuse as it exists today, is now available free to schools, churches, civic groups and community organizations.

The newspaper, called "Up-Look", is published and distributed by the Youth Action Center in San Diego. The newly opened Action Center provides a 24-hour Actionline counseling service, school drug prevention seminars, programs for community organizations, churches, drug informational centers near schools, and weekly spiritual jambores meetings.

This newspaper is probably the most extensive effort ever published on the drug abuse problem," stated Action Center founder, Dr. Morris Cerullo. "It even covers some of the little talked about problems such as venereal disease."

Over 25 articles, plus illustrations and pictures, compose the contents of the newspaper. A sampling of the articles include — "How Bad is the Drug Scene?," "Spotting an Addict Through Symptoms," "Venereal Disease Sweeps Nation," "Doper's Jargon," "Tips on Handling Family Drug Problems," "Bad News for Social Drinkers," "How to Turn Down Drugs," "How Much it Costs to Get Addicted," and "Witchcraft — The Dangerous Scene Ahead."

Some of the rather shocking information brought out in this newspaper includes that approximately 20 per cent of the national narcotic problem exists in the state of California, and that Southern California is rapidly emerging as the number one narcotic problem area in the nation.

Southern California drug abuse authorities report that as high as 80 percent of all high schoolers have experimented with illicit drugs.

The newspaper is geared to both adults and teenagers, according to Don Musgraves, director of the Action Center.

Musgraves was the past director of a similar center in Anaheim, where he had a 45 percent permanent cure rate for all drug addicts who came to the center, while the cure rate at federal rehabilitation institutions is less than 2 percent.

To order copies of this special newspaper, write: Youth Action Center, P.O. Box 901, San Diego, California 92112, or telephone (714) 278-4160.

Two other dates have been scheduled for registration, February 13 and 20, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., also at the youth center.

BOARD AT WORK — Pictured is the County Board of Supervisors at a regular Tuesday morning meeting. A typical Tuesday morning meeting, morning and afternoon sessions, may have as many as 70 items to be considered, ranging from zoning appeals to authorization of the sale of school district bonds to creation of a hospital authority to approving appointments and considering Charter revisions. All Board meetings are open to the public and interested citizens are urged to attend and speak out on important matters.

State Campsite Reservations Now Being Taken By Ticketron

Confirmed reservations for state park campgrounds can now be made at any of 230 computer terminals around the state with practically no bother or delay.

Four area locations have Ticketron reservation center and are now serving the public.

In La Mesa: Harris & Frank, Broadway Department store, second floor, and Highland store. All are in Grossmont Center. In El Cajon, Sears provides the service.

The Ticketron Company is the same one that has been taking reservations for tours at Hearst San Simeon State Historic Park since November. The program there has worked so well that the Department of Parks and Recreation decided to use it statewide.

Campground reservations are accepted only up to 90 days in advance so that those who cannot plan their vacations early in the year will not be at a disadvantage.

The cost for making reservations, in addition to a $1.50 charge for undeveloped campsites, a $3 charge for developed campsites, or a $4 charge for trailer sites with hookups, is $1.50 for each campsite or block of time reserved.

A family wanting to camp for 15 days (the maximum period for which a campsite may be reserved) at San Clemente State Beach would pay the regular $45 camping fee plus $1.50 for the reservation.

Information regarding reservations and state park campgrounds may be obtained at any Ticketron terminal. If none is handy, reservations may be made directly with the department at its headquarters in Sacramento.

The $1.50 reservation fee will be charged here also. For information and reservation forms, write or visit the Reservation Office, State Department of Parks and Recreation, 1416 Ninth St., Sacramento 95814.

They contrive to get the artist out of his apartment and subject his blind wife to some mental torture as they attempt to recover the doll.

The Grossmont Board of Trustees expelled two students, including one from Mount Miguel, for infractions of the drug policy at a meeting Monday night.

Also at the meeting, trustees agreed to lift the expulsions of 31 other students who were expelled for the drug violations.

While at Bow Willow, members will work on requirements for First and Second Class ranks, according to Scoutmaster Jim Hill.

This is the first campout of the year for Troop 376 which is considered one of the area's most active units. Last year the group travelled 2,380 miles on a varied agenda of activities.

County Government Important To Everyone Say Supervisors

"We think County government is important to everyone," says Fifth District Supervisor William A. Craven, chairman of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors. "What we Supervisors do — or don't do — touches the lives, the futures of every person living in San Diego County."

And that's a lot of people. Almost a million and a half live here, more than live in any one of 15 states. More than half live in the City of San Diego, about 27 percent in one of the other 12 incorporated cities in the County. Only one-fifth live in the unincorporated areas which most people think of as "the County."

"Many people feel we deal only with those living in rural areas — that what the County Board of Supervisors does is of no interest to someone in the City of El Cajon or Chula Vista or San Diego," comments Jack Walsh, First District Supervisor. "But let's look at the facts."

"When you get married or buy or sell a piece of property, the County Recorder files the facts. Every time you buy a pound of meat, the scales which weighed it have been checked by the County Sealer of Weights and Measures. Those measles shots your children had this fall were given through the County Public Health Department."

The County provides the means to enforce law and order throughout the County. This includes all courts — municipal, traffic, justice, and juvenile — as well as the jails, honor camps, and probation services.

The County acts as the primary agent to deliver social services to the people. Over half the County budget is in this area: welfare, medical care, mental health, drug abuse, alcoholism.

It also performs general government functions such as property assessment and tax collection for all local agencies, and special services such as the veterinarian.

Overseeing these activities — and many others — are five of the busiest men in San Diego: the County Board of Supervisors, elected on a nonpartisan basis from five districts. These districts are divided to include areas of equal population and to ensure that each Supervisor represents a part of the City of San Diego. All but the First District include some of the unincorporated area.

The districts will be redrawn this year on the basis of the 1970 census. San Diego is one of only four counties in the State redistricting this year; some haven't changed district boundaries since 1900.

Fourth District Supervisor Jim Bear says, "Few citizens realize that the Board of Supervisors also acts as 'City Council' for a 'phantom' city. The County provides many municipal services such as sewers, lights, streets, sidewalks, libraries, police protection, and animal control in rural areas and unincorporated cities, and some by contract in a number of the incorporated cities."

Second District Supervisor Henry Boney would like to see more concerned citizens at Board meetings. "Our meetings and hearings are open to the public. When we deal with these issues, we would like to see more people in the chambers. We want to hear the citizens' opinions and be responsive to their needs. We don't expect them always to agree with our decisions. But we would like to see them get excited about the issues which are important to their welfare."

New Supervisor Jim Bear concurs. "Everything I have seen in my first two weeks," says Bear, "confirms my opinion that the decisions made by the Board have a bigger impact on all our citizens' lives than most of them realize."

His first two weeks as a Supervisor have been active. In addition to the regular Board meetings and hearings, he has worked on several special projects.

Harry Scheidte, Supervisor for the Third District, feels the Board's activities in the next few months will have great impact at the community level. He says, "The most vital task facing us is the establishment of a regional decision-making process to help build intercity and County cooperation."

"If we can set up an entity to solve regional problems like bus transportation, airports, rail service, open spaces, flood control, environmental deterioration, we will be the first County in the country to do so."

He also hopes to see legislation passed for tax reform which will lift the burden from the retired and fixed income groups.

Dennison, left, gallery director of the touring art exhibition "Horizons: A Century of California Landscape Paintings," unpacks one of the 22 pictures now being displayed at Silver Gate Savings and Loan Association, 701 "C" St., San Diego. The exhibition, which has been seen by over 90,000 people in 19 California cities, will be shown at Silver Gate through January 22.

Local Teacher Raps Reagan

Mrs. Margaret L. Lemmer, president of the 173,000-member California Teachers Association last Wednesday challenged Gov. Ronald Reagan to document charges in his State of the State message Tuesday "that tenure has become a haven for incompetent teachers."

The Lemon Grove English teacher said the governor should receive an "F" grade in "Responsibility" for making such sweeping charges without submitting any documentation.

"No competent teacher or professor in California's public schools or colleges would permit a student to make such sweeping allegations in a composition or research paper without some kind of documentation," Mrs. Lemmer said.

The CTA president agreed that in the ranks of California's 184,000 public school classroom teachers there surely must be some incompetents, just as in any other business, trade or profession.

"If there are incompetent teachers in California's classrooms, it is because school boards are neglecting their responsibility to pupils and parents by not exercising their dismissal powers under the law," Mrs. Lemmer said. "Mr. Reagan should be admonishing school officials to live up to their responsibilities to get rid of the few incompetents instead of giving the whole profession a black eye by his blanket, undocumented charges."
